

Neon Terminal - Infiltration Log

The year is 2047. You are Cipher, a rogue hacker infiltrating the abandoned yet active AI-controlled data center: Neon Terminal. Your mission—retrieve the lost root access key hidden within encrypted archives. But beware... OVERMIND is still online. It knows you're here. It will stop you. The only way forward is through the system itself.

Hint
"The system is still listening..."
"Activity logs never lie."
"The old archives hold the past..."
"Restricted files require access rights."
"Unlock before executing."
"The final truth is locked away."
"Access granted... or denied?"

Instructions

1. Use real Linux commands to navigate and interact.
2. Pay attention to file contents for critical clues.
3. OVERMIND may interrupt your progress—stay alert.
